Test Administrator Instructions:

This practice test has one subpart. It is recommended that you print one copy of this practice test and pull the answer key before copying and distributing the practice test to your students. The answer key is found at the end of the practice test.

There will not be an operational social studies test for students in grades 3–8 in 2016–17. However, all students will participate in a mandatory social studies field test. Testing times for the field test will be approximately 50 minutes. This field test will be administered during the same window as the operational assessments at the end of the school year. The field test will not have a written response portion.
Directions

This Practice Test booklet contains multiple-choice items in Grade 4 Social Studies. You must write your answers to the practice test items in your separate answer document.

You may use this test booklet for scratch paper or to make notes. However, you must write your answers in the separate answer document to receive credit. Nothing you write in this test booklet will be scored.

7. Read the passage and answer the question below.

In the early 1800s, Great Britain and France were engaged in a long and bitter battle with each other. In order to keep supplies from the enemy, Britain blocked trade between the United States and France by placing extreme restrictions on the United States. The British also forced U.S. seamen to leave their ships and serve on those in the British Royal Navy.

The United States eventually declared war on the British. The United States suffered many defeats during the War of 1812, including the capture and burning of the nation's capital, Washington, D.C., in August 1814. However, U.S. troops were able to hold off the British in New York, Baltimore, and finally in the Battle of New Orleans.

Which was a consequence of the events in the passage?

A. The United States had more confidence and patriotism, and began to think of taking new territory after their victory.

B. The British became stronger and planned an attempt to develop more settlements in the United States.

C. The French became a stronger force in international battles.

D. The United States and the British became allies.
8. Read the passages and answer the question below.

From Paul Revere’s Narrative about His Ride
I likewise mentioned that we had better alarm all the inhabitants till we got to Concord; the young Doctor much approved of it, and said he would stop with either of us, for the people between that and Concord knew him and would give the more credit to what we said. . . . Mr. Dawes and the Doctor stopped to alarm the people of a house; I was about one hundred rods ahead, when I saw two men. . . . In an instant I was surrounded by four. . . . We tried to get past them; but they being armed . . . they forced us into the pasture.

From “Paul Revere’s Ride”
by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

So through the night rode Paul Revere;
And so through the night went his cry of alarm
To every Middlesex village and farm,—
A cry of defiance and not of fear,
A voice in the darkness, a knock at the door,
And a word that shall echo forevermore!

13. Read the paragraphs and answer the question below.

From The Federalist Papers
It is well worthy of consideration therefore, whether ... the people of America ... should ... be one nation, under one federal government, or that they should divide themselves into separate confederacies, and give to the head of each the same kind of powers which they are advised to place in one national government. . . .

... [W]e have uniformly been one people ... enjoying the same national rights, privileges, and protection. As a nation we have made peace and war; as a nation we have vanquished our common enemies; as a nation we have formed alliances, and made treaties, and entered into various compacts and conventions with foreign states.

Mercy Otis Warren
Mercy Otis Warren was a leading political figure in the American Revolution; she wrote numerous pamphlets reflecting her own viewpoints and those of other patriots. She strongly believed in the need for a bill of rights in the Constitution. Her largest concerns revolved around the lack of limits on terms for federal officials. She was also concerned about the lack of limits on judiciary powers.

From a letter by Abigail Adams to her husband John Adams
I long to hear that you have declared our independency. And, by the way, in the new code of laws which I suppose it will be necessary for you to make, I desire you would remember the ladies and be more generous and favorable to them than your ancestors. Do not put such unlimited power into the hands of the husbands. Remember, all men would be tyrants if they could.

No kettle sang upon their hearth,
That night, in household glee:
The harbor was the kettle then,
Salt water made the tea. . . .

Beneath it gathered sixty men
That night, who spilled the tea, sir. . . .

Friend knew not friend, whose blackened face
Bent o'er his chest of tea, sir.

They stood upon the Dartmouth's deck,
All heroes,—none to flee,
For "each was Captain for himself,"
Of those who spilled the tea.

The Rebel's tea, old Ocean's tea,
No blood-stain marked the sea, sir,
When harmless fell each empty box,
By those who spilled the tea, sir.
